DETAILED ACTION

Correction of Inventorship Under 37 CFR 1.48(a) or (c)

In view of the papers filed 12 December 2005, it has been found that this nonprovisional application, as filed, through error and without deceptive intent, improperly set forth the inventorship, and accordingly, this application has been corrected in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48 (a). The inventorship of this application has been changed by adding John Hauser as the inventor.

The application will be forwarded to the Office of Initial Patent Examination (OIPE) for issuance of a corrected filing receipt, and correction of Office records to reflect the inventorship as corrected.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1 – 13 and 16 – 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Regarding Claims 1 – 9 and 16 – 18, Claims 1 – 9 and 16 – 18 fit into the statutory categories of a machine or a process. However, the claimed subject matter is directed to the judicial exception of an abstract idea. The claim is directed to a mathematical equation which has been held to be nothing more than an abstract idea.

Art Unit: 2615

An abstract idea is a non-statutory judicial exception. Since it fits a judicial exception, one must examine to determine if there is a practical application either by a transformation of a physical article or a useful, tangible concrete result. In the current presentation of the claim, neither of these practical applications are met.

Regarding Claims 10 – 13, claims 10 – 13 are directed to a computer executable program. Computer programs are neither computer components nor statutory processes, as they are not “acts” being performed. Such claimed computer programs do not define any structural and functional interrelationships between the computer program and other claimed elements of a computer which permit the computer program’s functionality to be realized. However, a computer readable medium encoded with computer executable instructions is statutory as it defines structural and functional relationships between the computer program and the computer.
